Appendix 1

1 Guidance on risk assessment

- 1.1 A risk assessment is a careful examination of what in your work or activities could cause harm to people, so that you can weigh up whether you have taken enough precautions or should do more to prevent harm. The law does not expect you to eliminate all risk, but you are required to protect people 'so far as is reasonably practicable'.
- 1.2 When thinking about your risk assessment, remember:
 - 1.2.1 a hazard is anything that may cause harm, such as trailing or bare electric cables, unrestrained windows on upper floors, shared fabric towels in washrooms and unlocked cupboards containing chemicals and / or cleaning fluids.
 - 1.2.2 the risk is the chance, high or low, that somebody could be harmed by these and other hazards, together with an indication of how serious the harm could be.
- 1.3 Step 1: Identify the hazards
 - 1.3.1 First you need to work out how people could be harmed.
- 1.4 Step 2: Decide who might be harmed and how
 - 1.4.1 Identify groups of people who might be harmed and how they might be harmed, which includes employees, volunteers and helpers, pupils, visitors and contractors.
- 1.5 Step 3: Evaluate the risks and decide on precautions
 - 1.5.1 Decide what to do about the risks. Compare what you currently do with what is accepted as good practice. If there is a difference, list what needs to be done.
- 1.6 When controlling risks, apply these principles, if possible in this order:
 - 1.6.1 try a less risky option
 - 1.6.2 prevent access to the hazard
 - 1.6.3 organize work to reduce exposure to the hazard
 - 1.6.4 issue personal protective equipment
 - 1.6.5 provide welfare facilities
- 1.7 Step 4: Record your findings and implement them
 - 1.7.1 If you employ five or more people, the law requires you to record your findings.

1.8 Step 5: Review your risk assessment and update if necessary

1.8.1 You should review what you are doing on a regular on-going basis.
